MAN AND HIS WAYS.
See the Man!
He wears a hat of straw, stiffened with glue until it is like a tin pail, or of felt or silk, stiffened with gum shell-lac until it is like a cast iron pot. Inside this unyielding brim is a thick band of hard, stiff leather, reinforced with inner bands of flannel. Result: compression of the blood vessels of the scalp, causing undue perspiration, headache and baldness.
About his neck in summer is a turban collar, which is a high, stiff fence of great thickness of starched linen.
This fits closely, leaving him unable to turn his head without great effort. Imbedded in this and tied in front in a thick, uncomfortable bunch, is a tie of heavy cotton or silk, reinforced with linings of quilted cotton, flannel.
His shirt has a stiff, unyielding front, of the firmness of a priest's breastplate.
This must be donned with dexterity and worn with care, lest it break or bend.
His waistcoat is made of heavy woolen cloth, and in summer he wears one of booster, thicker and warmer duck or cheviot. This warmth, and thickness, however, are only in front, where nature has already protected the lungs and heart. At his back, where protection is required against draught or chill, the waistcoat is of thin muslin.
His coat is similarly built, the fronts being reinforced by lapels of many linings.
About his waist he buckles a belt so tightly as to interfere with breathing and circulation, yet can rarely get it tight enough to achieve its own purpose.
For this reason he must wear suspender, which are probably the most uncomfortable garment known.
He carries a stick which has no pretense to use or beauty.
He has dozens of pockets into which he never puts anything.
He has buttons which button nothing and buttonholes which are not used.
He has strange jewelry of clumsy interest. Great bunches of unwholesome must be thrust through stiffly starched layers of linen. Collar buttons must be lost and hunted for.
He has rings on his fingers, pins in his scarf, chains across his breast, fobs dangering from his pockets and studs in his shirt.
He is not what he is created, but is what he has created.
Is the Man a Savage?
No—he is the Lord of Creation!—Life.

Recovering on Damage.
In the small compartment for smokers at the rear end of a train going out of Norfolk a few weeks ago sat three commercial travelers and an old farmer whose dilapidated exterior made, very plausible the story he told the conductor.
"I'm only a poor lone man," he said, with tears in his eyes. "I haven't a cent in the world. But my daughter is dying—here he almost broke down—and I want to see her. Please don't put me off. It's only sixty miles."
"Nothing doing," said the conductor, through with a touch of pity. "Orders are orders. You'll have to get off at the first station."
"It's all right, conductor," said one of the drummers. "I'll pay for him. How much?" And he drew out a roll of bills.
"Not on your life!" cried the farmer;
"thank you just the same, though." And drawing out his own rather substantial roll, he paid his fare. The conductor grinned, and passed on.
"Gentlemen, I owe you an explanation," said the farmer to his accompanied companions. "Five years ago this damn railroad ran over one of my cows—ran over her in broad daylight, before witnesses. I sued the company for $40, but their counsel lawyers beat me out of it.
Since then I've been tryin' to get my forty over way I could, and by hook or crook. I've been tryin' to get my thirty-seven in length, twist off. Examination showed that a cord had cut the member nearly off and as some laborers are known to have had trouble with the horse they are blamed for this condition. The state will probably take the matter up."
"Why do you call it automobile stuff?" asked the proprietor.
"Because," gasped the youngster,
"it's running over everything in sight!"
—Judge.

His Preference.
"Now, Patsy, if it should come to a real issue which would you rather lose, your money or your life?"
"My life, begorra. O'm savin' me money for me old age."—Bohemian.

I Had Stone in the Bladder, and my kidneys were affected. None of the means taken for relief produced any lasting benefit until I began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y. The pain ceased—the calculi or stones having been dissolved by the medicine. I am ready to testify that my recovery was due to Dr.
Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.—E. O. W.
Parsons, Rochester, N. Y.

Too Exalted a Parent.
The great Wellington was always presented about religious observances. One Saturday evening a lady, one of his guests at Stratfieldsaye, Wellington's country seat, announced for not forgetting one of the party to church the following morning.

She was a Roman Catholic, and there was not a Catholic church within a distance of twenty or thirty miles.
"That," said his grace, "need be no difficulty. My carriage and horses are at your disposal. Breakfast shall be ready a little before daybreak, and the thing can easily be done."
The second duke of Wellington, in telling the story to the author of "Society in the Country House," adds, "And she had to go."
"Impossible," he exclaimed, "the impossibility of living up to such a father!"

ABOUT THE STATE.
Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Orin Lawrence of Monkton Ridge, recently killed a porcupine which weighed sixteen and one-fourth pounds.

The fruit crop in Randolph is a good one. Potatoes will be an average yield and farmers are receiving from 50 to 60 cents a bushel.

Thirty men are busy driving piles for Burlington's new filtration plant. About half the required number of apies has been sunk. The heavy rains have somewhat delayed operations and in another week work will be begun on the great concrete storage tank. The Lay Construction Co., of New York is doing the construction work and W. Gillis, of Boston, is doing the carpentering work.

Alleged violations of the internal revenue law in cigar factories and in the sale of intoxicating liquor in Washington county are being investigated by Special Officer L. A. Dyer and W. L.
Hadden of the office of the internal revenue commissioner in Boston. These officers have made Montpelier their headquarters for several days and are not yet ready to report.

Samuel Carpenter of Wilmington, is still in a critical condition from the effects of injuries suffered ten days ago when his horse collided with a four wheel team from Johnson's mill. One of the heavy wheels passed over Mr.
Carpenter's body, crushing the ribs in his left side nearly severing one ear from his head. It is thought that internal injuries were also sustained.

The sudden death of Montraville Ross, a life long resident of Huntington occurred at Proctor Sunday morning. He was on his homeward trip from Saratoga where he had been to attend the A. R. R. encampment. The remains will arrive from Proctor today and be brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. Morrill. The funeral will be held at the Union church this afternoon at two o'clock.

A rapid horse sale was made at Mid- dletown Monday forenoon. A man from Lincoln came into a crowd and asked if any one present wanted to buy a horse.
"Yes," answered one. "What do you want for it?" "Two dollars," said the prospective buyer. "Done," said the other and the money changed hands.
Within a few hours the buyer was offered several times as much as he had paid.

Judge James L. Martin of Brattleboro, judge of the United States district and county courts, has been notified by Judge Platt of Connecticut, that after October 1 Judge Platt will be able to again take up the work in Connecticut, which he was obliged to give up the past summer on account of ill health. Judge Martin has been doing the work in both states.
He would be obliged to give up the Connecticut work anyway after October 1 on account of the closing of the autumn term of court in this state.

The farm buildings of J. P. Tillot- son of Morrisville were burned Sunday evening, the fire being discovered about eight o'clock. The stock was saved and most of the furniture from the house.
The hay, grain and farming tools, including a corn harrow, were burned.
The property was but partially insured.
Mr. Tillotson was about to hitch up to drive to Craftsbury, where he is doing a logging job, when he discovered the fire in a section of the barn, he had not been in for several days.

A balky horse owned by Edward Roberts, of Jacksonville, is reported by human authorities to have been the victim of revolting cruelty. It has been the custom to twist the animal's tongue to induce him to move in his balky spells. The last time that this treatment was tried Mr. Roberts was surprised to have a portion of the tongue severed in length, twist off. Ex-
laborers are known to have had trouble
with the horse they are blamed for this
the matter up.

Rev. Charles F. Morse of St. Johna- bury, Vt., has completed the copy for a Bulgarian-English dictionary and has received word from Samakoff that the copy has arrived there safely by registered mail. He has been nearly four years in preparing the copy and there are 25,000 words. In 1860, when Mr.
Morse was missionary for the American board in Bulgaria, he published a small Bulgarian dictionary and this has been the only medium through which the missionaries and the students in the higher schools of that country studied English. Second-hand copies of this book are highly sought for and it is hoped that funds can be raised to publish this greatly enlarged edition.

Jail Commissioners Thomas Reeves, F. W. Nichols and J. W. Lavigne of Chittenden county, Burlington, have purchased of John Spencer a piece of land at the rear of his house on Main street, adjoining the present jail property.
The dimensions of the land acquired are 57½ feet by 40 feet and the price paid was $1,000. The jail barn will be moved to the newly acquired site and will thus occupy a position out of view from Main street. The shop which at present stands upon the lot will be sold and moved away. It was the first idea of the commissioners to turn the jail barn half way around and place it at the west end of the new jail building. The present arrangement will add to the appearance of the jail surroundings as the building together with the other jail can be graded and laid out properly into a lawn.

Another Wonder of Science.
Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly.
It is the only destroyer of dandruff sold by leading druggists. Send 10-c stamps for sample to The Herp-icide Co., Toronto, Ont.
Two stamps—50 cents and $1.00.
E. A. Brown, Special Agent.

HARMLESS SNAKES.
They Are Valuable as Aids to the Agriculturist.
It is not generally known that the preservation of harmless snakes is as important as the destruction of the pests of man with in farming and in market gardening.
The national records contain sad histories of the total or partial extirpation of many animals which are useful or beautiful or both.
Yet there are few animals more useful in one way than snakes. If humanity alone prevented the killing of harmless snakes, how can we justify it when they are proved to be useful to us? Consider the economic relation of a snake to an ear of corn or a row of potatoes. Snakes live almost entirely upon creatures which are destructive to growing things—that is, they eat literally millions of insects, small mammals and worms. Especially are potato bugs, worms, flies, beetles, maggots, ants, grubs, grasshoppers, locusts and the larvae of these the food of most of our snakes.
Of considerably over eighty different kinds of snakes found throughout the United States and exclusive of the rattlesnakes and moccasins there are but two which can be termed dangerous. We exclude the rattlesnakes and the moccasins because all are large, easily recognized forms, which cannot be confused with harmless kinds. Living in water, the moccasins are not of ten troublesome to farming regions and are confined to the south from North Carolina around the gulf coast and the Florida peninsula and along the southern Mississippi, living in swamps. The two really poisonous snakes which might be mistaken for harmless ones are the copperhead and the coral snake.
Of the two the copperhead only needs our attention. This truly poisonous snake is slender and has few features to distinguish it from harmless milk snakes. It is found usually in rocky hills or stone piles, old cellars being a favorite spot. But it should not be greatly feared, for unless attacked or stepped on it will not bite, and it is seldom found where there is cultivation of the ground in progress.
—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Comb in the Claw.
Many birds possess a useful comb in the claw of the middle toe of the foot.
This has been noticed in owls, nightjars, herons, bitterns, curlews, gulls, snipes, etc. It has been explained as a means of holding the prey securely.
The comb is sometimes replaced by a curved blade with teeth, which run along the inner side of the claw. Such a blade is found in razorbills, wild ducks, gulls, starlings and many other birds. Where a comb is required the inner edge of this blade becomes divided into teeth. Young nightjars or goatsuckers have only the blade, but old ones have a well developed comb.

Yucatan.
Yucatan is a compound Indian name meaning "What do you say?" which was the only answer the Spaniards could obtain from the natives to their inquiries concerning a description of the country.

ESTATE OF JOHN HENRY JACKSON.
In Probate Court,

Donald, Clerk of said District, do hereby
